SAVE JUST ONE

By Sheila Harper

I'm sitting in one of those stereotypical coffeehouses, surrounded by skinny jeans, tattoos, and Apple products. I love this environment; in fact, I work best in this environment. The hustle and bustle of the crowd and the striking conversations invoke creativity and then... ideas abound!

My thoughts today keep traveling to a few days ago when I saw the March for Life in Washington, D.C. Many of my friends were in D.C. and were posting pictures of the incredible crowd on their social media outlets. I also saw pictures of America's first-ever sitting-president addressing the crowd in real time. I could almost feel the excitement just through viewing the pictures.

Then, I also had friends at the Women's March that took place the next day. This march was an audacious display of a side of womanhood that honestly ashamed me. Those people do not speak for me; they are not my voice; they do not exemplify even a fraction of the women I know. They represent a very real agenda to further the cause of death in women's lives, in addition to completely and totally blocking men out of the issue. To promote abortion is to want women and men to continue to experience the aftermath of what abortion brings. In plain English, they want us to continue to choose to kill our own children. There is no way, even in a perfect world, this scenario plays out to benefit women - or anybody, anywhere.

Don't get me wrong, some women marched for the #metoo movement. I get that. Sexual abuse and trauma are another subject. In fact, I am coming out with a new Bible study this year that deals with this very pain. This book is in the editing phase as we speak!

Now, however, I'm focused on stopping the agenda that promotes death in our country. From a bird's eye view, the end of abortion looks daunting, incomprehensible, and overwhelming. You may not believe you have the tenacity to change the world in such a way. Often times I have described our leaders at SaveOne chapter as "world changers" because they truly are! The people who teach this study are on the front lines of the abortion issue, changing this world for the better. They are seeing abortion and the cycle of death end in each participant's life, family and future. Yes, to me they are world changers.

Imagine a world where we have thousands of world changers no longer allowing the death of children occurring when convenient.

How incredible it would be if the churches rose up and realized their power? We would see abortion end quicker than we would know what happened.

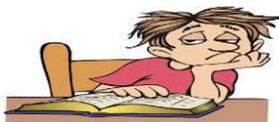

We can do this.

It will take all of us, though. If you are reading this, all you have to do is start a SaveOne chapter at your church, synagogue, pregnancy center or ministry. When we see the issue up close - on a personal level - instead of from a bird's eye view, it starts to make sense. We can start to see hope for our world.

I promise you that when we make abortion recovery available at all our churches, we will make abortion unthinkable even before it becomes illegal. That is when politics will follow the Church and not the other way around! God is moving in this ministry. We see it Every. Single. Day.

Let us know when you're ready, as we have done the homework for you and have made it extremely easy to start the SaveOne Bible study. Contact our office today at info@saveone.org

A MARCH FOR THEIR LIVES (They may learn)

By: Kathleen Hall

One good outcome from this movement can be shining the spotlight on the ignored inner city daily carnage - some areas with the strictest gun laws. It is said students met with Chicago high school students. These shootings don't serve to further the goal of disarming American citizens, so they are not highlighted.

If the kids follow this awareness to its conclusion, they will find the root cause of inner city distress has to do with failed government policies that have destroyed the family. The very wealthy sponsors, promoters and directors of this movement will not want to go there; they will try to squash it.

These same promoters, who are responsible for the riots in Ferguson Mo. and many other cities, who pay Antifa to attack and riot, who are killers of the unborn (Planned Parenthood also contributing to movement), want these kids to be useful only to make self-defense even more difficult for law abiding citizens. The media, with the same goal, will not talk about the recent shooting in MD, as only one person died due to the quick response of armed security.

If these kids use their brains, they may actually learn something in the process of being used. They may see that what happened at their school was a massive failure of local & Federal government, combined with Obama's Promise Program that kept the killer under the radar and unreported and ignored by local law enforcement as a threat. With the Promise Program, school infractions were sent to school administrators instead of the police. As a result, arrests went from 1,056 students in 2011-2012 to 302 in the 2015-2016 school year, according to realclearpolitics.com

If the kids have the stamina and the courage - after their "supporters" turn against them - some of them may actually do some good!

What Can the Righteous Do?

By: George Palmer

Psalm 11:3 reads – “When the foundations are being destroyed, what can the righteous do?” (NIV) The New Living Translation states this more clearly in relation to the state of the world today: “When the foundations of law and order have collapsed, what can the righteous do?”

You need look no further than our government to see this situation being played out. Our highly esteemed FBI has been shown to be biased. Fired Director James Comey has been shown to have drafted a statement exonerating Hillary Clinton for running government e-mails through a private server before completing his investigation of her. www.cnn.com/2017/08/31/politics/comey-clinton-investigation/index.html.

Soon after that we were to see Robert Mueller launch into an investigation of President Donald Trump for alleged collusion with the Russians to interfere with the U S election and tilt it his way. As the months have dragged on, new information has come to light. It seems that President Obama did spy on Donald Trump as was alleged. <http://thehill.com/opinion/campaign/351495-it-looks-like-obama-did-spy-on-trump-just-as-he-did-to-me>

To make matters worse, the FISA Court apparently granted surveillance requests on Mr. Trump that were based at least in part on the, now infamous Russian Dossier. It is a document bought by Hillary’s campaign in an attempt to obtain useful information from the Russians to use against Donald Trump during the election. <http://thefederalist.com/2018/02/03/5-things-fbi-never-told-fisa-court-trump-dossier/>
The irony here is far too great to be overstated!

Please do not think I don't know that I can go to some liberal web sites and get authoritative sounding rebuttals to these charges. I am fully aware of the highly polarized political biases in our country and of the wildly differing accounts one can find about what is going on.

That is the whole problem. I don't know exactly where the truth is or how much slant is involved in the quick analysis I just gave above. Neither do the vast majority of other people who read these things and go off to do battle in the arena of public opinion. Too many people are going to the well-known pundits that believe like they do. Then, they express outrage at the opposing side.

This kind of activity is eerily described in 2Timothy 4:3: “For the time is coming when [people] will not tolerate sound and wholesome instruction, but, having ears itching [for something pleasing and gratifying], they will gather to themselves one teacher after another to a considerable number, chosen to satisfy their own liking and to foster the errors they hold,” AMPC

The internet is used a lot for fact checking. However, these days it is used much more for “compliance checking”. People hear a statement and say “I will go and see what my people (teachers or experts) have to say. Inevitably, back-up can be found that refutes the offending opinion and complies with the searcher's.

We have become a country divided. And as stated in Matthew 12:25: “...Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand.” (NKV)

I have no stomach for arguing one way or the other any more on the charges and counter-charges that are flying around. I simply say this – it is a darn good thing that Hillary did not get elected as President.

Never mind that she is probably a corrupt, greedy liar. The real shame would be that if she were president, there would be no investigations! Trump would have gone off into history and gotten out of the way so there would be no political reason to harass him. And, almost certainly, nothing further would have been done about Hilary's investigation.

Instead, the left has come after Trump with a blind vengeance not caring what they do or say to try and get rid of him. Now, the "Russian Dossier" investigation has boomeranged, uncovering alleged wrong everywhere. The FBI, Obama, the Russians and our FISA court are all looking very bad under scrutiny.

One can't help but conclude that corruption runs deep within our elected officials and our prize law enforcement agencies. It reminds me of when you pick up an old rug in a basement and see dozens of cockroaches scramble for cover to avoid exposure to the light. Throw that in with the Harvey Weinstein scandal kicking over a hornets nest of sexual harassment claims within the sanctimonious ranks of Hollywood, and it is painfully clear that a vast boil of corruption and harassment in this country has been lanced.

I wish to appeal to the common man, the people who honestly go to work, pay taxes and try to raise their children with integrity. Let's not go to battle against each other for any of these folks under investigation until it can be credibly shown what has really gone on. And, remember, it will not be easy to discern the truth. Political spin and partisanship will remain rampant. Instead, let's pray for some honest and courageous statesmen to arise and get to the bottom of all this murky activity. House cleaning is desperately needed and guilty people need to be exposed and sent packing.

Then, let's be very careful about who we trust to be working for the good of all of us.

Million Dollar March for U.S. Senate Seats

Democrats are motivated to defeat our president and his agenda. If we conservatives don't rise up and begin a massive campaign to promote our candidates and turn out our voters in the midterms, we will lose in a wipeout defeating many of our strongest conservatives heroes.

That's why we are launching a campaign to raise $1 million in the month of March to support conservative candidates.

Please help us by making a contribution to SCF and to any of our six endorsed U.S. Senate candidates.

We're calling this our MILLION DOLLAR MARCH MADNESS challenge. It's the biggest single fundraising drive we have ever undertaken and, to many, it may look like madness. But we know it's essential for conservatives to achieve victory this year and we know we can reach this goal with your generous support.

Please help us defeat the liberals who want to spend trillions of dollars we don't have, flood our country with millions of illegal immigrants, control our health care decisions, take away our guns, and force us to pay for abortions on demand.
